GENEVA, Sept. 4.—In an address before the fifth assembly of the League of Nations today the British prime minister, MacDonald, declared that Germany cannot remain outside the league and requested action along this line at the present session assembly.

The British leader urged that the time has come to arrange for a new disarmament conference with all the powers, including Germany should be present, all plans for a security including the American plan, should be turned over to a special committee would study them seeking a basis for a conference, he added.

"Europe for the last few years has not offered America a very attractive companionship, yet we have never asked America to do an important thing but what she has always accepted to do it," he remarked.

The British empire will do everything in its power to widen the peace and prestige of the League of Nations, Premier MacDonald promised.

FIRE DESTROYS GARAGES, AUTOS

Two Garages, Six Automobiles Are Burned in Big Fire at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 4.—Losses estimated at $12,000 were caused by a fire of undetermined origin which at 2:20 o'clock this morning destroyed two garages, a lock shop and storehouse and six automobiles in the rear of 925-927 and 929 South Third Street.

The flames, which for a time threatened "automobile row" on Third Street, caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood and many residents left their beds to witness the fire and the work of the firemen, who remained at the scene until 5:16 o'clock.

Emory Pryor, restaurant-keeper at 925 South Third Street, in whose two-story frame garage the fire broke out, said the flames had gained a headway and the building was doomed before he discovered the blaze and turned in an alarm.

The flames communicated to the garage and two-story frame shop and storehouse in the rear of the hardware store of K. Dreher, 927-929 South Third Street and these buildings also were destroyed along with their contents. Mr. Dreher estimated his loss at $8,500. The remainder of the losses were suffered by property and car owners.

Four automobiles, including three touring cars and a roadster, in the Pryor garage were burned. They belonged to Mrs. J. Burton, 311 South Fourth Street; Marvin Ash, 926 South Third Street; J. M. Catini, 849 South Brook Street; and Emory Pryor. A coupe and touring car in the Dreher garage were destroyed.

Band Practice Meet- ing Here Tonight

The first practice meeting of the band now being organized will take place at the city hall at 7:30 tonight. All those who have submitted their names and any others who wish to become members of the band are urged to be present. Efforts are being made to procure instruments for those who have none. Persons having band instruments of any kind for sale are requested to bring them to the Service Barber shop.

A great deal of interest is being manifested in the organization of the band which is being sponsored by the American Legion and it is thought that a sufficient number of musicians may be gathered to have a band that will compare favorably with any in this section.

Wisconsin Governor Obtains Big Plurality With Backing of LaFollette.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 4.—Governor J. J. Blaine, backed with the endorsement of Senator Robert M. LaFollette not only obtained a plurality over his nearest competitor, Arthur H. Hirst, of between 65,000 and 70,000 votes but rolled up a majority of between 30,000 and 35,000 votes over both his opponents in yesterday's primary for the republican gubernatorial nomination.

The vote in 2,507 precincts out of 2,587 in the state showed Blaine 216,298; Hirst, 149,487; Comings, 31,143.

Supporters of Senator LaFollette made a field day out of the primary and then proceeded to carry off all the honors except one.

One of the present members of the Wisconsin delegation in congress, all supporters of the senator LaFollette were renominated.

The lone exception was in the fifth Milwaukee district which was now represented by Victor Berger, socialist. Here Ernest Bruncken, who had declared for the senior Wisconsin senatorship went down to defeat before E. Braun.

NINE HERRIN MEN INDICTED TODAY

Young and Others Indicted for Im-

DANVILLE, Ill., Sept. 4.—Glen S. Young, former Williamson county raider, was indicted on five counts charging impersonation of a government officer when the federal grand jury reported today after a three days session. Nine Herring men were indicted on charges of impersonating officers. The indictments are the outgrowth of the investigation of activities of Young and his followers in connection with liquor raids in Williamson county last January.

HEERIN, Ill., Sept. 4.—John E. Smith, Herring garage owner, was charged by the coroner's jury today with having killed Chester Reid here Saturday in a shooting affair when five others were slain. The jury recommended that he be held for the grand jury and a warrant charging murder was issued.

Ford Coupe Stolen
A Ford coupe, belonging to John McKinnon was stolen from a side street near the Manning theatre between 9 and 10 o'clock Tuesday night. There was no clue as to the direction it had been driven nor as to whom had taken it. Officers telephoned news of the theft to nearby towns but had heard nothing from the car this morning.

Labor Representative Speaks on World Finance at Hull — Tells Who Won the War.

LULL, England, Sept. 4.—Labor unions in the world's great democracies are founding, upon newly forged pillars of great political, economic and financial power, an enlightened civilization, Peter J. Brady, president of the Federation Bank of New York and mayor of the American Federation of Labor declared today in an address before the British Trades Union Congress.

The cornerstones of this civilization, said Mr. Brady, would rest in a British Commonwealth of Nations, an American Commonwealth of States, and a United States of Europe.

Bringing to this 50th congress of British labor organizations the cordial greetings of the trade union movement in America, the president of the A. F. of L.'s most representative bank in his country said he came here also to "knit more closely the bonds of understanding between the workers of Great Britain and America."

For, he said, the great allied debts still existing, the new reparations agreement and the prospect that American investors would shortly be called upon to loan many more millions to European nations "link us more closely than ever, with your fate."

Mr. Brady praised British labor for its course in politics. American labor, too, was making itself felt in politics of its nation, he said. But, as he pointed out, the differences between England's "right little isle" and America's aggregation of state sovereignties obliged labor in his country to accomplish its ends with the aid of all parties, rather than through one purely labor party. He called America "a babel of nationalities."

As for the A. F. of L. policy toward other international organizations of workers, that was controlled by the democratic system of autonomy which prohibited the A. F. of L. from dictating to its unions. As Mr. Brady said, "it gets its mandate from its affiliated members."

Of the international relationships that were broken off during the World War, he said: "We are still eager to restore fraternal relationships when it can be brought about on a practical basis; to jointly solve the pressing problems confronting the workers of all nations. We believe in such international kinship, for we hold that the trade unions of the world are the only substantial bulwark against Kaiserism or Bolshevism or however we term the form despotism may take to overthrow democratic institutions."

Mr. Brady went on to describe the vast accumulation of labor capital as represented by workers' savings deposited in labor controlled banks in the last four and a half years.

"If we can pool our votes to get control of governments," he asked; "if we can unite our economic power to impress industry, can we not, by combining our savings, small individually, but bulking enormously large in the aggregate, make finance responsive to the will of those who produce the world's wealth? We think it can be done, and so do the workers of America."

"We have 34 labor banks with resources of $125,000,000—but a drop in the bucket of what our trade union banks are capable of accumulating. We have five million trade unionists. Each year $25,000,000,000 is paid our industrial workers and from six to seven billion dollars is saved in various ways. It is this large sum which labor banks hope eventually to control."

"There is no peace," declared Mr. Brady, discussing the reparations agreement. "The armistice was signed and peace declared. It was followed by a six-year purgatory. More men are under arms than

BEDOUINS ASK TO RETURN TO ANCIENT FAITH

Remnant of Ancient

Ancient Tribe Reveals Documents
Giving History—Tribe Is Scattered Through Section.

By Associated Press

JERUSALEM, Sept. 4.—Part of a Bedouin tribe in Palestine numbering about 1,000 persons, claiming to be descendants of Jews who remained in Palestine following the destruction of the Temple, have applied to the government for help in their efforts to return to Judaism.

The tribe known as "Arab el Simlani" is scattered over Upper Galilee. Some of the tribesmen are at present encamped at Tabha, on the northern shore of Lake Tiberias, whence they addressed their request to the Rabbis of Safed. The claim as descendants of Jews is based by the elders of the tribe on documents said to be in their possession, showing their ancestors to have been part of the Jewish race. One of the documents of the Simlani is a scroll written in Arabic, resembling somewhat in form and content the "Torah" or scroll of the Mosaic Pentateuch. Some of the Simlani customs are also said to resemble those of the ancient Jews.

After waiting in vain for action on the part of the Rabbis of Safed who apparently were none too anxious to precipitate a proselytizing activity of such importance, 23 chiefs of the tribe submitted a written application to the government.

A British official sent to investigate the request and examine the claims, reported that while there may be some doubt as to the authenticity of the documents, the earnestness of the Bedouins' desire to embrace, or to reembrace, Judaism, was questionable.

The authorities are understood to be proceeding very cautiously, fearing the effect upon the Muslim and Christian population of a wholesale conversion of the tribe.

Although Zionist officials have approached, they have taken no stand in the matter. The question of the direct descent from the Jews of certain Bedouin tribes of Upper Galilee and the Sinai Peninsula has engaged at various times the attention of Orientalists. There is a brief that the Jews remaining in Palestine after the destruction of the Jewish nation managed to remain true, perhaps clandestinely, to their faith, until forced by Omar to exchange their religion for the Islam. Since then they are believed to have lived outwardly as Mohammedans, while handing down to their children the story of their Jewish ancestry. In this respect the Simlani would be not unlike the "Moranos" of Spain and Portugal, who secretly retained their Jewish traditions and practices, although compelled by the Inquisition to live as Christians.

before the war. Only lately have the six years of conferences borne fruit—whether the poison apples of the next World War or the wholesome fruit of World Peace, none can tell.

"They say America won the war. No one won the war, least of all America. The powers still owe us 12 billion dollars for financial cooperation. The American investor is to be called upon to loan them billions more."

"The American bankers advance money to pay the German indemnities, then look to Germany to repay the American investor after France already has the money. What folly if the spending of this money will inevitably lead to big armies, bigger navies and final obliteration of the civilized world."

SHANGHAI, Sept. 4.—Though approximately 40,000 troops battled throughout the day, competent eye witnesses declared tonight that neither side had made material gains.

Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Sept. 4.—Kilang's troops under General Chi Shieh Yuan, launched a heavy attack on Hwanan near Shanghai today but were repulsed, according to a communication issued by General Lu Yung Hsiang, the Chekiang commander, another attack developing the communication added.

Two airplanes conducted by Russian conducted the bombing attacks without effect. Shanghai is crowded with foreigners huddled into the city from the firing lines today. They viewed hostilities with fear that the battle lines might come closer to the city before nightfall. Fighting is now about fifteen miles distant.

Two Appointed to Board of Charities

Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Sept. 4.—Approval of appointment by Gov. Fields of Miss Linda Neville, Lexington, and E. E. Shannon, Louisville, as members of the State Board of Charities and Corrections, has been sent the governor by Mrs. Jessie Hutchinson, president of the Kentucky League of Women Voters.

"The appointments are worthy ones," she declared. "The executive committee of the league congratulates the state upon these appointments."

Formal acceptance of an executive secretary is pending. The committee today turned attention to its tri-annual conference on Appointments Day, May 15, at Berea College. The Kentucky, Ohio and West Virginia leagues will take part with universal presence. The next conference is to be held November 24, 1924.

BRADNER REPORTS ON KIWANIS MEET

Committee Appointed to Entertain
Labor Delegates at Luncheon Today.

J. W. Bradner, recent delegate to the Kiwanis International convention at Denver, made an interesting report of that meeting at the Kiwanis luncheon here today. He told of how the wonderful development of Kiwanis had been brought out in the convention and of how the members were selected with the idea of getting the very best citizens into the club.

A committee consisting of Dr. E. D. Wells, Judge J. F. Bosworth and John Burnett was appointed to enlist the use of cars for the entertainment of delegates to the Kentucky Federation of Labor Monday afternoon.

W. A. Stair read an invitation from the Pineville Kiwanis club to attend the Pineville luncheon Tuesday when Gov. W. J. Fields will speak there. All who are unable to attend the luncheon are requested to hear the governor's address.

Invitation was also extended the club from LaFollette to attend the fair there on Kiwanis Day, September 11, no committees was appointed on this, though all were urged to attend.

Ladies Night, Friday, September 12, was again announced. At this meeting delegates to the East Tennessee Press association will be entertained. Dr. J. P. Edmunds will be chairman on Ladies Night which will be held at the Hotel Cumberland at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Edmunds reported progress on compiling the advertising book for Middlesboro. W. D. Mott was chairman at the meeting today. A number of visitors were present.

YOU MUST REGISTER IF YOU VOTE NOV. 4

Next Monday and Tuesday are registration days. If you don't register you cannot vote on Nov. 4th. The use of the ballot is the test of citizenship. On November 4th, the people of the State of Kentucky will vote on presidential electors, a senator, and district representation in congress, together with that of the good road bond issue.

Any one of these particular offices or the road measure should be of sufficient interest to bring out a full vote. About one half of the people of the United States have been voting the past few years. Kentucky is little ahead of the country in general as far as interest in elections is concerned. It is little use to kick regarding the administration of government affairs after the election is over and the damage done. There are no worse men in congress than in the electorate that send them to Washington. It is your business as a voter to be at the polls on election day and see that your choice is registered for some candidate, that you take some stand on public measures at that time. The stay at home voter is the biggest menace to good government. If good citizens do not vote how can we have good government?

There is no "last chance" under the law for citizens of Middlesboro to register; you must register Monday or Tuesday next or you lose your ballot. The city commission has no authority to give you a day or days of grace in this matter; you must go to your polling place and register on the days specified by law, September 8-9.

A RECORD OF CRIME
Ten homicides were committed in Harlan county in the month of August—an average of about one every third day for the month. In nothing up this record our sister county goes far beyond the famous Chicago of one murder a day on a per capita ratio, we are apt to look upon that city as a center for crime. At the present time Harlan has the heaviest felony docket in its history, notwithstanding a number of cases have been sent out of the county for trial. In the filing of motions by the commonwealth attorney of the county for a change of venue in a number of cases, Mr. Golden stated that such a state of lawlessness existed that the officers of the county would be prevented in the discharge of their duties and that jurors would be intimidated from a fair rendering of verdicts.

Harlan county will not only pay a heavy price in dollars and cents for the lawless state of affairs in the county but will suffer a corresponding loss of prestige as a community. No community can permit such things to go on in its midst and not expect a reaction not only in the moral stamina of its own citizens but the loss of the respect of other communities. Indiscriminate and unchecked gun toting leads to but one thing homicide—and Harlan county seems to have hung up a record for all the counties in the state. It has even gone so far as to surpass Bell county.

Who would want to move into Harlan county with this record facing them; who would move into Bell county after a look at the criminal court docket, without careful consideration?

These are facts for every property owner and citizen in the two counties to face. No man wishes to take his family into a community where any night some gunman may take it into his head to discharge a fusillade at another like character. Those fellows do not pick a spot for their orgies of blood—time and place mean nothing—opportunity is all in all, no matter who may fall in the line of fire.

It would be a revelation in criminology to the worthy Mr. Darrow, Judge Lindsey to attend the criminal term in Harlan county. Doubtless they would still retain much of their far fetched humanitarianism and would still believe that the best end of society is served by acquittal or mitigated punishment for such crimes. The specious theory of blood atonement must get out of eastern Kentucky. It is a law of feudal might that belongs to Italy in the fifteenth century and has no part in present day civilization.

When good citizens stay at home on election day and allow the election of officers who are either in sympathy with law breakers or afraid to enforce the law, we may expect such records as ten killings per month.

LIVE AND LEARN.

If we as a people can learn from experience, without having to be hit on the head with a panic and hard times, the recent slight depression in this country should have taught us its lesson.

When industry slowed up, jobs became scarce—just enough scarce so that no one was really hurt but enough to make a sensible man think and realize that any movement or any agitation which interferes with normal industrial activity strikes first and hardest at the working man.

As farm prosperity returns more men have jobs not only on the farms but in all lines of industry. A man who works in a sawmill or a mine should realize that his job depends on prosperity in other lines of business which use the product he produces.

The brakeman or engineer on a freight train should realize that his job depends on the "other fellow" who makes an article for transportation.

If we pull together as a nation success awaits us. If we fight among ourselves we court hard times and failure.

The work of the Dawes' committee of experts to formulate a business-like program for settlement of the Allied Reparations tangle, further emphasizes the value of team work along constructive lines.

This committee figured out such a practical plan that it will be adopted on account of its sanity and simplicity. After five years of European intrigue and jealousy, plain every day business sense and honesty had to win out over political inefficiency.

The people of Europe have suffered five long years to learn their lesson—namely—that one nation cannot profit at the expense of another.

Thus do we see intelligence finally conquering ignorance. How long individuals or nations suffer during the "process of education" depends upon their ability to learn from observation and escape the severe lessons which experience gives to those who refuse to learn otherwise.

The American people have only a bright future before them if they stand for the square deal policy which will assure continued agricultural and industrial activity.

Charge your mind with your government—it is yours; you must register Monday or Tuesday or you cannot vote November 4.

Sterilization for Criminals, Lunatics

Associated Press
DRESDEN, Sept. — The government of Saxony has filed a motion with the Reich's authorities to provide an amendment to the criminal law compelling degenerate criminals, feeble-minded persons and certain classes of lunatics to undergo a sterilizing operation.

The amendment would provide that the compulsory operation be performed after the patients refused to submit voluntarily and then only upon a court order after a hearing before a committee of medical authorities.

EVERETT TRUE—By Condo

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

Washington—When President Coolidge returned from his vacation campaign questions were first to claim his attention.

The president's part in running the campaign has not, indeed, been as strenuous as the head of a national ticket's part usually is. Chairman Butler of the Republican committee has done most of the marketing, but any number of complaints were piled up, for the older magistrates' benefit, concerning Butler's methods.

These complaints came, practically all, from the "old guard" sources.

The chairman, it appears, is treating the "old guard" all the time with less and less ceremony.

Butler has the reputation of belonging distinctly to the conservative group in his party, but since the Cleveland convention "old guardsmen" say he has shown, in some respects, almost a preference for the progressives—not the La Follette Progressives, but the more progressive of the regulars.

For instance, it is understood he has sought for advice concerning political conditions in the north-west mainly from Senator Howell of Nebraska at the same time turning a deaf ear to numerous suggestions that Senator Curtis of Kansas is an older hand at the game, and a safer advisor, according to "old guard" ideas.

Senator Gooding of Idaho, too, has been almost entirely ignored as a councillor, in favor of the much more radical Senator Borah of the same state as Gooding.

That Senator Lodge of Massachusetts is out of favor is no surprise. He opposed several of President Coolidge's pet policies on the Senate floor before Congress adjourned.

Physician Tells of Primitive Life Found in Mountains

Dr. Harry P. Butler, Newport, who with Mrs. Butler has retraced from a two months' motor-trip up to the headwaters of the Kentucky River, relates some interesting experiences with the mountaineers of the state in the 700-mile trip. The doctor says there is no improvement to be noted at the head of the river.

"In the north fork of the Kentucky River coal is unusually plentiful—strata of coal stand out everywhere," Dr. Butler said. "The mountaineers all burn coal, which they pick up about their farms. However, there is no way of getting this coal out at the present time, as there are no railroads and the river is only navigable at times. There are absolutely no roads other than mule trails."

"At one place the children are compelled to walk three miles to school, which lasts its term during the summer months, as cold weather, snows and sleet render it impossible to attend in winter."

"The farmers plant only a few acres of their farms, raising mostly corn and garden truck. Money does not seem to interest them, for they have practically nothing to buy except a pair of overalls and a few yards of gingham, and do not handle more than $75 a year real money. Cornbread, hog meat and potatoes constitute their diet the year round. White flour is unknown to them. For a table beverage they use 'mountain tea,' made of birch bark or spice wood. Tea made of birch bark is highly delicious, as it is a soft, mild drink and very palatable."

"The housing condition is simply the same as it always has been—a one room or two-room shack, or maybe a log cabin weather-boarded over. I am telling the truth when I say a man and wife and five children will live in a shack 15 by 15, with two doors and one window. They make their own soap from fats, but I could not see where it had been used in fact, there was nothing to scrub, the floors and woodwork being constructed of rough boards. They put on a sheet iron roof—it lasts until it rusts out—nothing is painted. They never wear shoes in the summer, and I am told half of them go through winter without them. Imagine a flapper or 16 years wearing a cheap gingham dress—no shoes, no stockings and smoking a clay pipe or chewing tobacco! Well, they do it, and think nothing of it."

"It is nothing unusual to find a girl 14 or 15 years old married, and she will go to housekeeping with the family. At one shack I found three generations and families living in a cabin of two rooms. I found an old woman at this place who had resided there for 93 years, had not worn shoes at any time within her memory. She cuts all the wood and appears very hardy, and when I asked her to what she attributed her longevity, she answered, 'work.' She has kept a log fire going summer and winter as long as her nephew, 53 years old, can remember, so that she will have fire with which to light her pipe. She thinks it a shame the way people waste matches. She said she had never been away from the place except once when the high sheriff took her 14 miles to the county seat as a witness in a murder trial. She says, now I close my eyes when there is trouble hereabouts, so I won't have to be running around the country."

"Last summer during the Democratic convention, I inquired of a native if he had heard who was nominated for President. He said I was mistaken and wanted to know where I had been for the last two or three years. He said Harding was elected President and was still serving his term."

"I bought two gallons of blackberries, one dozen eggs and about 10 pounds of potatoes and a piece of bacon. Asked the price and the owner answered: 'Oh, about 25 or 30 cents. Think that's too much?' Gave him half a dollar and he acted like a child with a new toy."

"I did not see anyone wearing eyeglasses. It seems their sight is wonderful. It may be because they do not use their eyes for other than Nature's scenery. I do not know where they got the idea or who circulated the report, but a great many of them believed the Kentucky Home-Coming was due to the finding of a stone tablet in Egypt which proclaimed that everybody in the world should visit their homes in the year 1924."

"They are very religious, but suffer no inconvenience from their religion. There are traveling preachers, who go about preaching the gospel. They will hold a meeting at any cabin, the congregation consisting of members of the family, and a few neighbors. I asked a prominent business man at Irwin what improvements had been made lately in the old town since prohibition. 'Well,' he said, 'they put a big addition on the jail to care for the dry-law violators.' I paid him 12 cents for a can of condensed milk which was his price, and told him I expected to see another addition next year to the jail."

"You seldom hear much of Cincinnati—all business along the entire course of the Kentucky river is done through Louisville."

COLORED VOTERS MEETING TONIGHT

Stimulates Registration—Meeting Tuesday Night Was Great Success.

In order to stimulate registration for the coming election a meeting of colored voters will be held at the city hall tonight. They will organize committees and make efforts to have every voter registered, that he or she may aid in the selection of our state and national officers in the November election and other elections thereafter.

A meeting of the general registration committees was held at the city hall Tuesday. At that meeting the city was divided into zones and workers were placed in charge of each section to encourage men and women of voting age to register next Monday or Tuesday.

Representative Joe F. Bosworth made a splendid talk at the meeting. He declared, according to the new registration law which provides a lifetime registration for cities of over 5,000 population, that persons who do not register Monday or Tuesday will hereafter be denied the privilege of registration in Middlesboro, and it seems that men and women will forever lose their right to vote in all city, county, state and national elections unless they register in the coming life-time registration.

Dr. Jacob Schultz also addressed the committee and urged upon those present the all important necessity of registering next week.

Stone Bruise Cure for Impaired Nerve

BADEN - BADEN, Sept.

Stone bruises on the feet are a sure cure for nervous disorders, in the opinion of a German specialist who sets many patients to walking in their bare feet over stony fields. The more tender the patient's feet the quicker will be the cure in the opinion of this expert on nervous disorders.

He holds that many nervous persons are unable to take their minds off troubles which they brood over constantly and has found over a long term of years that it is not possible for many patients to work.

Gives Books to Japan

LONDON, Sept. 4.—By passing the diplomatic and consular vote the House of Commons sanctioned the gift by the British government of $125,000 for the purchase of books in Great Britain for the Tokio Imperial University.

The library of the university was destroyed in the earthquake of last year, and this gift is a restitution.

POLO IS OLDER THAN AMERICA

Played Before America Was Discovered—Originated in King's Court.

Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Although the polo matches for the historic International Challenge Cup between British and American teams, scheduled to begin Saturday, September 6, started in 1884, polo was played before Columbus discovered America.

The game was not introduced in the United States until 1870 but it was centuries old then. According to reliable sources, it originated in Persia, more than 1,000 years ago and was played in China and India long before cavalry officers garrisoned in India brought the game to England and made it a sport which has few rivals for wealth of tradition.

Largely because of the excellent training in horsemanship which polo affords, it has been fostered by government and army officials. At the close of the World War, Sir Douglas Haig conferred upon the sport a "citation" declaring it to be the most efficient training for army officers yet devised. During and since the war, the game has been encouraged among American army officers.

According to tradition, polo had its origin in the court of a Persian king. It is said to have been invented by a court physician for the purpose of providing physical exercise for his sovereign and the members of the realm. About 600 A. D., shadow legends have it that the Tartars who overran Asia at that period, carried the game to China. From Chinese archives, it appears that as early as 951 A. D., there was a school for the training of polo ponies. It was shortly after this period that the wanderings of the Asiatic people took the game to India, whence it has come down to England and America.

HEAR INSECTS EAT BY RADIO

May Determine Whether Fruits and Vegetables Contain Worms or Bugs.

Associated Press

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa, Sept. 4.—Thanks to the radio, fruit growers will hereafter be able to determine through the sense of hearing whether apples and other fruits are wormy. Dr. C. K. Brail, professor of entomology at Stellenbosch University, has conducted a series of experiments along this line, as a result of which he has drawn the conclusion that worms and bugs can be detected with certainty by radio.

Dr. Brail's method was simply that of attaching to an ordinary wireless telephone an unusually strong microphone. He took parts of twigs of an apple tree known to be infected with the larvae of the apple worm, and placed them in a box connected with the microphone. Through the receiver, he could distinctly hear the movements of the larvae, as well as the nibbling of the insects at the leaves. Likewise he placed a wormy apple in the box, and the microphone registered the noise made by the worm as he nibbled away at the apple.

A third experiment consisted in detecting the presence of the weevil in corn.

Champion Log Roller Will Be Determined

Associated Press

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Sept. 4.—An old time sport for woodsmen of northwestern states will be revived with the staging of an interesting log rolling tournament here September 7.

Not since 1914 have woodsmen of the northwest gathered in competition. Recently numerous challenges have passed between woodsmen of the northwest region, which has led to a revival of the tournament. The "world champion log roller" will be determined at the meet.

By defeating the New York Yankees in the first game of the year's "stealth" "crucial series," the Washington club took the lead in the American League race, which is, incidentally, one of the warmest races in history. This episode shows Catcher Schang, of the Yanks being retired at third on a close play.

HORNSBY OUT FOR NATIONAL RECORD

Meteoric Rise of Batter Leads Fans to Believe He Will Cop Championship

Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4.—Rogers Hornsby is well on his way to establish a new batting record in the National League—that of having led the circuit in hitting five consecutive seasons. The record of four consecutive seasons established by Hans Wagner from 1906 to 1909, inclusive, was equaled by Hornsby last year. This season he has topped the National League hitters virtually from the start of the campaign.

Hornsby, like Ty Cobb, Tim Lincecum, Johnny Evers, Grover Alexander, Eddie Collins and many other star players, entered the major league company merely as a prospect and at little expense to his club. He is said to have cost the Cardinals only $500 when he was purchased from the Demos, Texas, club. He proved his ability as an infielder and batter his second year in fast company and has been doing it since.

Boosters to Play Jellico Tomorrow

REMOVES BAN ON FOREIGN MOTORS

Americans May Now Sell Cars in Hungary—Restrictions Are Removed.

Associated Press

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Sept. 4.—Representatives of American automobile interests in Hungary received encouraging news recently with announcement that the Hungarian government had removed the restrictions on the import of motor cars and many other articles which have virtually been prohibited for some years because of these regulations.

Despite the unsettled economic conditions which have prevailed throughout Hungary for many months, American automobile agents believe there is a splendid field here for cars of foreign make. At present there are approximately 3,500 passenger cars in the country and about 400 motor trucks. The import restrictions raised also include automobile tires, then goods and woolen goods and many kinds of fruit and fish, which may now be brought into Hungary, subject to the duties imposed by the new tariff law, the whole of which is to become effective in the autumn.

Horse-Drawn Vehicles Preferred to Taxicab

Associated Press

BERLIN, Sept. 4.—The drosky, or one-horse cab, is coming back into its own in Berlin. Many owners of these conveyances were preparing to cast them into the scrap heap or turn them to other uses because the taxicabs were ruining their business. The latter now has begun to decrease in number because of the lack of patronage, due to the high fares charged.

Recently between 800 and 900 taxicabs have been withdrawn from service, the owners declaring that they could not operate profitably at lower fares because of the high cost of gasoline and oil. The drosky fare is about half that charged by taxicabs.

It is estimated that there are about 2,100 taxicabs operating in Berlin as compared with 4,000 a year ago.

At 65, He Wins With $16 Gun

Harry C. Deek, a carpenter of Plymouth, O., is 65 years old and the eye is better and his aim straighter than ever. He proved it by winning the Grand American Handicap in the Amateur Trapshooting Association of America's shoot at Dayton, O., with a score of 67 out of 100. The rifle he used only cost him $16. After it was all over, he declined all dinner invitations and slipped home quietly. But he was richer by $100 and a gold medal set with a diamond.

FOR A WORD
How shall you ever know the adoration
I spread like samite cloths beneath your feet?
How shall you guess the brooding desolation
Learned from your eyes so passionless and sweet?
There must be some word like the star that pines
In summer's rose transparency of dusk,
Or like the bird-note heard thru slumber's gauzes
Between the hour of dew, the hour of dusk;
There must be some one word that is more tender
Than any word my lips have ever learned
Without which I can never, never render
In speech the love of your cool, sweet love has earned.
You know as none my heart's forlorn distresses,
Its passionate throes, its daily taint and glow;
Woe must there be within obscure recesses
This tenderness of love you cannot know?

Title Will Be Awarded Some Kentucky Boy at Convention of Vegetable Men.

Associated Press

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 3.—Champion Junior Gardener of America is a title that will be won by some boy or girl farmer at the annual convention of the Vegetable Growers' association of America in this city September 15 to 20. John C. Gault of Philadelphia has offered a $50 white gold watch as the championship prize. The winner will be picked from the champion team of young growers, many of which will compete first for the team prizes. J. S. Gardner, state vegetable specialist of Kentucky, will have charge of the contest.

Another championship contest in which the younger gardeners are interested is the demonstration contest. These will involve boys and girls teams in various events, the winning team in each state entering the finals. Several handsome prizes have been offered.

L. V. Whitehouse, junior club leader of Kentucky is in charge of this contest. Encouragement of the young farmer is the chief purpose of this new contest, according to Mr. Whitehouse. Unless boys and girls educated for farming can be kept on the farms during the exodus of from farm to city, he said, the future of agriculture does not hold much attraction for money investments.

"It is a matter that is giving the national association and the vegetable growers generally much concern," Mr. Whitehouse said. "Trunk gardeners everywhere are experiencing a shortage of labor. The cities depend upon them for their green food without which life cannot be long supported. Farm population is steadily decreasing and the cities are doing little to make the farmers' work profitable by furnishing him no market facilities. Boys and girls are attracted to the city by seemingly better pay and greater opportunity to rise in the world."

"But there is money in vegetable growing as in everything else when it is properly done."

SOYBEAN ACREAGE IN STATE LARGE

Practically Every County in Kentucky Has Soybeans—Makes Excellent Feed

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 4.—The large acreage of soybeans in Kentucky this year is bringing many inquiries to the Kentucky College of Agriculture relative to the proper harvest of soybeans. Ralph Kenney, college crop specialist says that soybeans may be cut for hay any time between the full-bloom stage and the time when the leaves begin to turn yellow. This period commonly runs 4 to 6 weeks depending on the season. Perhaps the best stage of ripening to cut soybeans is when the lower pods are well filled out with beans. In drought-affected sections, however, many leaves may have turned or dropped by that time, and cutting under such conditions, should be done as soon as the leaves begin to turn.

The yield increases steadily until the first pods are filled. After the pods are filled out with beans the leaves begin to drop, and the hay becomes a little harder to cure, because inside of the pods. There is not much change in the moisture content of the stems and leaves from the full-bloom stage until the pods are well filled. The increase in the weight of the hay comes from allowing the pods to fill out with beans. Experiments have shown that soy bean hay nearly doubled in weight between July 25, when in full bloom and September 12, when a fourth of the leaves had turned yellow, and the lower pods were about mature. Cool nights and rain often make curing difficult later in the season.

Prince Attends the Races

The Prince of Wales went to the races at Belmont Park, L. I., in plain Edward Windsor. But that didn't fool folks in the slightest. The Lord to the British throne was having a wonderful time until an army of cameramen took up his trail. He is seen here conversing with his hostess, Mrs. August Belmont looking all the world like a happy school boy.

Soybean hay may be cured in either the swath or wind row. In either case curing should be complete before the hay is piled. If cut in the swath, from 3 days to a week may be required, according to the weather and the yield. When cured in the wind row the hay should be raked in the morning, in order to prevent loss of leaves. It may be necessary to turn the wind rows a time or two to secure complete curing.

BOULEVARD TO ENCIRCLE PARIS

Beaucoup Places to Promenade With Mademoiselle When Street is Finished.

Associated Press

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Paris' dream of a great green bordered boulevard around the city is coming true. It may be a few years before the plan is completed but the work of tearing down the obsolete fortifications is half done and the first sale of the land will take place soon as apartment houses may be erected there.

There are 1,400 acres of land in all and in the 92 forts and defensive walls and the moats surrounding them. Three other forts will be kept, partly as a relic of old Paris. Half of the land will be given over to military establishments and railroads while much of the remainder will be sites for government buildings, schools, the city's proposed low priced apartments to relieve the housing shortage and the little "University City" where students, particularly poor ones, may live cheaply under good conditions.

There will be sold only 170 acres in small lots but from these sales

COLLAR AD MAN IN FILM HERE

Allan Simpson, Artist Model for Collar Ad, Appears in "Society Scandal."

You've seen his picture everywhere and often wondered who he was, the man whose likeness stared down upon you from billboards and electric signs, car cards and store windows.

So let us introduce you to Allan Simpson, a twelve nationally famous artist's model, at present playing an important supporting role opposite Gloria Swan-on in the Allan Dwan Paramount production, "A Society Scandal," which will be shown at the Manning theatre tonight.

You might recall Simpson in Allan Dwan's "The Glimpses of the Moon" and in "The Exciters" with Bebe Daniels, but this is his first real big chance. When he first started in the picture game, Allan's one ambition in life was to make the picture-going public admit that he could act and not merely to think of him in the light of a poster for collar, hat and tobacco ads. Just how far he has succeeded may be seen in "A Society Scandal" in which he is forced to do no little amount of dramatic acting as the husband who divorces Miss Swan-on in the first few feet of the

HAVE YOU APPENDICITIS AND DON'T KNOW IT?

Much so called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gases and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Frank L. Lee & Co. Druggists.
